Your Request for access to your personal data processed by Deutsche Lufthansa AG
Your e-mails dated 11 August 2010 and 2 September 2011

Dear Mr Hasbrouck,

Please find enclosed the PNR history as provided by Lufthansa. I assume that you have now obtained all the information you demanded from Lufthansa.

According to German law Lufthansa fulfills your request for an accounting of who has received your data by indicating the categories of recipients. Through my e-mail dated 16 May 2011 Lufthansa gave you that information. Section 34 (2) No. 2 of the federal data protection act (§ 34 Abs. 2 Nr. 2 Bundesdatenschutzgesetz - BDSG) rules that the controller shall provide information to data subjects at their request concerning the recipients or the categories of recipients to which the data are transferred.

Furthermore, Lufthansa denies having transferred your personal data to Transam Travel. According to Lufthansa Transam Travel received your data from a travel agency that booked your flight. The travel agency can change or transfer the booking without the flight company having any influence on it. The results of such changes can be seen in the PNR as far as personal data is affected.

All in all I cannot see any breach of German data protection law that would justify to impose sanctions on Lufthansa.

Finally, I would like to emphasize, that the North Rhine-Westphalia Commissioner for Data Protection and Freedom of Information considers this letter and its e-mail dated 16 May 2011 as a comprehensive decision concerning your complaint. German law does not stipulate any form for the decision or any formal notice of rights of administrative and judicial appeal.
